Preparing Your Home For Sale

So you've made the decision to sell. The marketing plan is in place and you're ready to have potential buyers walk through your property, but the question remains... are you really ready for this?

Here are some tips that have proven to be invaluable to the successful home seller.

The right preparation and just a little investment, whether it be time or money spent on preparing up your home, can deliver significant financial results. First National is familiar with, and understands, differing buyer requirements. To help us get you the best result for your home, we have provided some tips that have proven to be invaluable to the successful home seller.

Take up the garden

Keep in mind that first impressions count. Dig out weeds, get ready to be garden-ready, keep paths and the driveway empty, green and sharp trees and shrubs, and make sure rubbish bins are clean and tucked away.

Remember to be your best

If you have pets, it is also advisable to keep them out of the house or at least out of the house during inspection. Remember to be your best as well as show your pet's house and keep prior to inspection.

Consider reconfiguring items

If you are advertising a three bedroom home for sale then that is what people will be expecting. Consider reconfiguring the room for the sale to show three bedrooms and a bathroom. Consider reconfiguring the room for the sale to show three bedrooms and a bathroom.

Remember to be your best

Set the scene for your prospective buyer. Show them to your home's best features by displaying fresh flowers and hanging decorative hand towels in the bathroom.

Get rid of the clutter

Crowded clothes and drawers or cluttered cupboards and storage spaces seem cluttered and messy. Consider putting non-essential items in storage throughout the sale period.

Remember to be your best

Set the scene for your prospective buyer. Show them to your home's best features by displaying fresh flowers and hanging decorative hand towels in the bathroom.

As open home is a great way to promote your home to prospective buyers. With the right preparation, an open home can be very successful. Ask your Real Estate agent on 13 10 66 to discuss what is best for you and your home.
